

Become a Diamondbacks Tutor Help Young People Develop and Practice Language and Math Skills

Join us as a Diamondbacks Tutor and enrich your life while sharing your time and skill with a young person who is at a critical stage of development. As a tutor, you meet with a High Desert Middle School student in person once a week for 30 minutes to help them develop and practice language skills. Some tutors also help with math.

As a Diamondbacks Tutor, you can:

- Forge a personal friendship with your student and offer emotional support and a sense of stability.
- Read with your student using different teaching tools to improve their level of fluency and to foster a love of reading (Books suggested by the school and provided to students and tutors). Math support is offered with the guidance of the school's math faculty.
- Help your student with homework if appropriate and needed.

How to sign up:

- Contact Alan Hilles (see info below) and he'll help you.
- Become a High Desert Middle School volunteer by filling out their form and completing a background check.

Other things you should know:

- It is not necessary to have a teaching credential. Many students speak Spanish. No Spanish proficiency is needed to tutor (although appreciated!)
- You are invited to attend periodic meetings with other tutors in the program on enrichment topics, continuing education, and a chance to share learning with each other.
- ✓ Flexible time commitment. As a Diamondbacks Tutor, we will help you and your student find an optimal time for tutoring. In general, we arrange the tutoring during the school year on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Tutoring can occur mid-morning and mid-afternoon, depending on school schedules for the year and depending on your availability. We ask that you commit to tutor for the entire school year although we will accommodate time away for vacations, etc.

Why serve as a Diamondbacks Tutor

The students have enjoyed the opportunity to read a book of their choice and meet weekly with their tutors. For some students, this relationship has helped them to feel more confident in their reading skills, and more connected to the community. I appreciate all the tutors who have dedicated their time to support the students of High Desert! – Teacher
